

Coorow Primary School

Learning for Life

The mini Quill

Term 2, Week 6

Dear dads, mums, and carers,

Just a reminder that Monday is a public holiday, so there's no school. I hope you enjoy your long weekend, and that all the kids come back on Tuesday well rested and ready for a big week of learning after all the excitement of the time capsule opening.

Thanks Shannon Kenyon, CRT and Shire of Coorow

We did some little happy dances in the office on Wednesday morning when we found out that Shannon Kenyon, the lady with grant-winning pixie dust, has worked her magic again: the P&C has received a gift from Combined Rural Traders to purchase Spike Prime kits (very special big-kids Lego, designed to teach kids coding and engineering). Thanks to Jake Comley, Watheroo Rural Traders, who brought this opportunity to our attention. Coorow is one of only three schools in WA to receive a CRT gift, so we are very excited.

And then, in the afternoon, more messages from Shannon...the Shire of Coorow has awarded the P&C a substantial grant to have games and charts painted on our bitumen. This will give the tired old bitumen a huge facelift. The games and charts will be used in lessons, as well as being fun for the children to play with at recess and lunchtime. Huge thanks must go to the Shire for their ongoing support of our school!

Week 6

Monday 2 June	WA Day Public Holiday – enjoy!
Tuesday 3 June	Staff meeting Mrs McIver out – Catherine Keeffe relief Miss Johns out – Mrs Morcombe relief Mrs Criddle away – we are looking for relief
Wednesday 4 June	Breakfast club
Thursday 5 June
Friday 6 June	Breakfast club Circus Challenge incursion*

*Circus Challenge

Many of you will remember the Circus Challenge incursion from previous years. It is a wonderful event where students have lots of fun and learn new, circus-related skills, but those skills are !HARD! so they also learn the importance of resilience and persistence in mastering new things.

This valuable incursion, provided by the school at no cost to you, is scheduled for Friday. However, the presenter has advised me that it may need to be rescheduled. If it is rescheduled, new details will follow.
